Jesus Sees You.

Little child, when you're at play
Do you know that Jesus sees you?
He it is who made the day.
Sunshine, birds and flowers to please you.
Oh, then thank Him much, and pray
To be grateful every day.

Little child, when you're afraid,
Do you know that Christ is by you?
Seek His care then! He has said:
Ask, and I will not deny you.
And He never fails to hear—
He will keep you, do not fear.

Little child, when you are bad
Do you think that Jesus knows it?
Yes, and oh, it makes Him glad
When you're sorry, and disclose it!
Oh, then tell Him quick, and pray
To grow better every day!

DEAR EDITOR:—I thought I would write, as I have not written for so long. I was at Louisville last night at the children's meeting. I enjoyed it very much. I live in Canton, but I wish I could live where I used to so I could go to Sunday School in Louisville. I like it very much at the Progressive Brethren church. The church was crowded last night at the children's meeting, and they all spoke so well. I will enclose 10 cents for the College. Please let me see this in print. Good bye Editor.

Yours truly,
ELLA HOOVER.

Canton, O.

DEAR EDITOR:—It has been quite a while since I have written for the Children's Column. I love to read the children's letters. And not only that, I want to become a member of Company C and that I may help pay for the Ashland University. My oldest sister Lina is at Ashland University going to school. I would like to go there too, but I am not old enough. I am nine years old. Our school will commence here in two weeks from today. I go to the Methodist S. S. when I am at home. Last Sunday my sister Myrtle, brother Harry and I attended the colored folks' camp meeting at Roann. They had a fatted calf roasted, and passed it around to every one. I did not take any myself, but my sister Myrtle did. I have two brothers and two sisters. I have one brother dead, but two at home. Will close for the present. If I see this in the EVANGELIST I will write again.

Yours truly,
ETHEL FISHER.

Mexico, Ind.

DEAR EDITOR:—It has been quite a while since I have written for the EVANGELIST. We have been very busy this summer, and I have neglected writing. I am twelve years old. My school will commence in two weeks. I go to the Methodist S. S. My teacher's name is Mrs. Work. I like her very much. I was at my grandma's about all summer, but I am at home now. I have been going to the M. E. Sunday School in the morning, and to the Brethren Sunday School in the afternoon. It was three miles west of Mexico. We have closed it for the winter. We have not had any Brethren preaching here for some time. Bro. Cober has been our preacher but he is attending College at Chicago. He can not preach for us for awhile. We expect Bro. Bashor in the near future to hold for us a meeting and think also that he will do a grand and noble work, for there is many folks here that are anxious to hear Bro. Bashor preach. I have been keeping house for two days. Mamma has been at Roann attending communion meeting. Enclosed I will send 10 cents for the Ashland University. I feel an interest in the Ashland University. I wish everybody would take an interest in it and get it paid for, so they could talk and write about something else. It seems to me sometimes that I must work plans to get up money to help pay for Ashland University. I wish that I could have influence over the men that I think have money in the Brethren church. I know that the College debt would be paid off. I will close. If this does not fall in the waste basket, I will surely try and do better in the future than I have in the past.

Yours respectfully,
MYRTLE FISHER.

The Saw of Contention.

"O Frank, come and see how hot my saw gets when I rub it. When I draw it through the board awhile, it's almost hot enough to set fire to it." "That's the friction," said Frank, with all the superior wisdom of two years more than Eddie boasted.

"Yes," said sister Mary, who was passing, "it's the friction; but do you know what it makes me think of?"

"No; what?" asked both the boys at once.

"Of two little boys who were quarreling over a trifle this morning, and the more they talked the hotter their tempers grew, until there was no knowing what might have happened, if mother had not thrown cold water on the fire by sending them into separate rooms."

The boys hung their heads and Mary went on.—Sel.

Stick To It.

Let me warn you against being frightened from a good purpose by obstacles. Every one who aims high, even in worldly pursuits, will find many difficulties in his path; but he must not suffer himself to be turned aside by them. Do you think Dr. Kitter encountered no difficulties as he worked his way up from the position of a poor, deaf charity-boy, to that of a learned Biblical critic? Were there no intervening obstacles between George Stephenson, the trapper-boy in a coal-pit, and George Stephenson, the greatest engineer of his age? "What!" said John Hunter, the first of English surgeons, originally a carpenter, "is there a man whom difficulties dishearten, who bends to the storm? He will do little. Is there one who will conquer? That kind of man never fails." "There is something in resolution," remarks an excellent writer, "which has an influence beyond itself, and it marches on like a mighty Lord among its slaves. All is prostration where it appears. When bent on good, it is almost the noblest attribute of man; when on evil, the most dangerous. It is only by habitual resolution that men succeed to any great extent,—mere impulses are not sufficient."—Wm. Simonds.

A Business That Does Not Pay.

A gentleman had a talk with a wicked man: "You do not look as if you had prospered by your wickedness," said the gentleman. "I haven't prospered at it," cried the man feelingly. "It is a business that doesn't pay." If I had given half the energy to some honest calling which I have spent in trying to get a living without work, I might now be a man of property and character, instead of the homeless wretch I am." He then told his history, and ended by saying, "I have been twice in the State prison, and I have made acquaintance with all sorts of miseries in my life; but, I tell you, my worst punishment is in being what I am."

Who wants to go into such a business as that? The work is hard and the wages is death.—SEL.

"Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout. Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "Recommended as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me from that trouble and also from Gout. If every victim of this disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. These words would be—'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

"By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of rheumatism which had troubled me several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and, I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient

Rheumatism.

No medicine could have served me in better stead."—C. C. Rock, Corner, Avoyelles Parish, La.

C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for sixteen years, and I think they are the best Pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. Since taking Ayer's Pills, I have been free from these complaints."

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. Since that time I am never without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.

Try It Yourself.

"It is of no use to argue the question, Philip, I am neither stubborn nor opinionated. I have simply learned a lesson that will last a lifetime."

"Look here, Jack! you are like some old bachelor who has been jilted by one woman, and goes about declaring all women are false."

"Not at all! my brother Charley died of Bright's disease, brought on by using one of these so-called 'blood purifiers'—the kind you see attractively advertised in every nook and corner. It contains iodine of potassium, a drug useful in extreme cases when cautiously given under a doctor's supervision, but death-dealing to all who take it in quantity. If your brother had died under such circumstances, you would hate patent medicines as I do."

"I do dislike the name of that mis-called 'blood purifier,' for I have heard a first-class physician say it is the cause of half the cases of Bright's disease in the country, and it is strange the proprietors have not been prosecuted for selling it. But I was recommending Vinegar Bitters and that does not contain any mineral, narcotic or other hurtful drug."

"Oh, nobody supposes that old woman's remedy will hurt anybody; the question is will it cure anything? I'd as soon think of taking some of my grandmother's herb tea."

"You would be better off, Jack, if you had some of that tea to tone up your system now, instead of taking a glass of brandy to make you sleep one night, and perhaps a bottle of beer the next."

"Is this a temperance lecture, Phil?"

"No, it is a Vinegar Bitters lecture. I've taken the medicine more or less for fifteen years, and look the wild world over, you will not find a healthier man than I am."

"What is all this nonsense about old style and new style Vinegar Bitters; are they different?"

"Yes, the old style looks like coffee with milk in, the new style looks like coffee without milk. The man who made the old style for twenty years—a practical chemist—made a milder, pleasanter preparation, adding to it here and taking from it there, until he produced, my wife says, the finest medicine ever made. It cured her of constipation, and it cures the children of hives and all the little ailments they ever have. If my wife thinks they have worms, she doses them with old style. We always have both kinds in the house, and together, they keep the doctor away."

"And you insist that the proof of the pudding—"

"Is the eating—precisely. Jack, get a bottle of the old style Vinegar Bitters—men, I think, prefer old style usually—try it, and you will then be like an old bachelor who, after railing against women for years, falls in love with a good woman at last. You will say there are good and bad patent medicines, but Vinegar Bitters is the best of the lot."

"All right, Phil, to please you, I'll try it and report results."
